

Assistant Professor of Mathematics
Lander University

The Department of Mathematics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Mathematics at Lander University beginning either January or August 2026.

Applicants must hold a PhD in Mathematics, Statistics, or a closely related field. Candidates who are ABD will be considered provided the degree is completed by the start of the appointment.

The department welcomes applicants from all areas of mathematics. A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching is essential.

Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate a record of effective teaching. In addition, candidates are expected to maintain an active program of scholarly research in their area of expertise, and the ability to mentor undergraduate research is desirable. Furthermore, all faculty at Lander University are also expected to provide service to the department, college, and university.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2025, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please submit the following materials electronically to:

Dr. Jennifer Yates, Dean of the College of Science and Mathematics at jyates1@lander.edu.

Cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, graduate and undergraduate transcripts, contact information for three references.

Lander University values diversity in its community and strongly encourages applications from members of underrepresented populations.

Lander is a tobacco-free institution.

All final candidates are subject to successfully completing background requirements.

Note: The University generally does not sponsor an H-1B visa. An affirmative action/ equal opportunity employer/ Title IX

For more information about the University and Greenwood, SC, please visit the Lander University website.